FACT BOOK
2024-2025

PREFACE

It is our privilege to present to the Kennesaw State University (KSU) community the 2024-2025 edition of the Kennesaw State University Fact Book. In its 38th year of production, the Fact Book was originally generated in response to the 1986 SACSCOC institutional self-study. Since that time, it has continually grown while providing a source of vital KSU statistics. Published annually, the Fact Book is intended to be a convenient, authoritative source of management information about the institution.

The Office of Institutional Research has made significant enhancements to both the web and PDF versions of this year's Fact Book. In the web version, navigation has been added making it quicker to locate the information you are seeking. In the PDF version, the same navigational enhancements have been added.

The publication of the Fact Book is the product of interoffice cooperation and collaborations across the campus. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all who contributed to this publication. The Fact Book is where we tell the public our KSU success story. We welcome and encourage anyone who would like to incorporate portions of the Fact Book into other works. Historical versions can be found at https://www.kennesaw.edu/data-strategy/institutional-research/publications/fact-book/index.php.

As always, we welcome comments about the Fact Book.

President Kathy Schwaig

Kathy 'Kat' Schwaig is the sixth president of Kennesaw State University, an emerging top public research institution in the United States that serves nearly 48,000 students and is the third-largest public university in the state of Georgia.

Schwaig initially served as interim president in 2021 before being named president in 2022. Under her leadership, KSU has launched "Taking Flight," a new strategic plan aimed at achieving national prominence. During Schwaig's tenure, KSU has embarked on a comprehensive student success initiative, established more than 50 new undergraduate and graduate degrees and minors, professional programs, and credentials for in-demand fields, launched FLIGHT — a class-year, student success engagement program for first-year students focused on community, progress, and retention, realized an 81% increase in external research awards, and more than doubled research expenditures. The university has also made significant investments in academic, research, and technology infrastructure and facilities, including nearly 20 capital projects that have enhanced the learning, living, and working environments on both campuses. Schwaig also oversaw KSU's move to Conference USA and relaunched HatchBridge, a community-focused business incubator.

Schwaig's presidency began during the private phase of The Campaign for KSU, the university's first-ever comprehensive campaign. During her tenure, KSU secured the largest gift in the university's history and successfully increased average annual fundraising by nearly 250%. When the campaign went public in 2023, KSU boldly raised the campaign's goals from $125 million to $200 million, including a $30 million campaign goal for KSU Athletics, a first for the university.

President Kathy Schwaig

Schwaig has served in several senior administration roles in her more than two decades of service to Kennesaw State. She served as provost and senior vice president for academic affairs from 2019 to 2021. As provost, she led the development of the R2 Roadmap to enhance undergraduate and graduate education and research and facilitated KSU's transition to a formal research (R2) institution. Schwaig also led an extensive faculty hiring initiative, launched the Double Owl program, expanded the KSU Journey Honors College, and established the Provost Leadership Fellows and the Women's Leadership Academy.

Prior to serving as provost, Schwaig was the dean of the Michael J. Coles College of Business, where she was named the Dinos Eminent Scholar Chair of Entrepreneurial Management. Schwaig oversaw the creation of the College's first doctoral program, increased educational opportunities for entrepreneurs, and achieved the top ranking in Georgia for the College's MBA programs. Schwaig is a professor of information systems with research focusing on the strategic and ethical implications of computer technology. She is published in key academic journals in her field, including the Journal of Management Information Systems and Information Systems Research.

Schwaig received the Oscar Burnett Award for Distinguished Achievement in Business from the Morris Brown College Foundation, the Cobb Executive Women's Glass Ceiling Award, and Atlanta Magazine's Women Making a Mark Award. A dedicated community partner and volunteer, she is the chair of Select Cobb and serves on the Executive Committee for the Board of Directors of the Cobb Chamber of Commerce and the Board of Directors for the Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. She previously served on boards for the Cobb Community Foundation, Mount Paran Christian School, Children's Healthcare of Atlanta - Cobb County, Junior Achievement of Georgia, Engage Scholarship Consortium, and the Alliance for Children Everywhere.

A native of central Texas, Schwaig holds a BBA in Accounting and an MBA in Information Systems from Baylor University, a Master of Liberal Arts from Johns Hopkins University, and a Ph.D. in Information Systems from the University of South Carolina. Schwaig is the proud mom of her high school daughter, Emma Grace.

Mission, Vision and Values

KSU Mission Statement

Kennesaw State University transforms lives through academic excellence, innovative research, strong community partnerships, and economic opportunity. We empower our students to become thought leaders, lifelong learners, and informed global citizens by cultivating an inclusive environment that encourages free expression and civil discourse.

KSU Vision Statement

Kennesaw State will achieve national prominence as a public university known for education, research, and community programs that foster inquiry and advance society.

KSU Values

KSU's strategic plan provides an opportunity to connect the university's newly articulated mission with a future-oriented vision communicating the values:

- Respect
- Integrity
- Collaboration
- Inclusivity
- Accountability

These values guide our strategic decision making at the highest levels of the university, and they are also central in the day-to-day operations of KSU; they provide a common language and purpose and unite us in our aspirations for how we learn and work together as a KSU community.

Quality Enhancement Plan: It's About Engagement

Success is more about what you do while you are in college and less about what college you attend. A recent study showed that the most successful students are those who participate in undergraduate experiences, such as internships, undergraduate research, and service learning. These engaged learning opportunities allow students to take what they learn in the classroom and apply it to the real world. Through internships, undergraduate research, and service-learning, students also gain unparalleled opportunities to hone their critical thinking and communication skills. More importantly, these opportunities pay dividends for students well beyond graduation.

At Kennesaw State, we believe that doing is the key to learning, which is why we are focused on increasing the number of engaged learning opportunities and giving more students the chance to learn by doing. We developed our Quality Enhancement Plan, It's About Engagement, to advance KSU's mission of student success by focusing on the dynamic nature of engaged learning in each of the academic colleges and the university, overall.

A Brief History of Kennesaw State University
By Dr. Thomas Scott, Campus Historian

In the generation following World War II a host of forces (including the popularity of the GI Bill and a doubling of average family income) brought about a democratization of higher education, as colleges became more accessible to working class families. Georgia joined the national trend in creating a host of new institutions. With a burgeoning Georgia economy, Georgia Tech in 1948 opened a two-year branch at the old Naval Air Station in Chamblee. It took the name Southern Tech and offered practical, hands-on training in engineering technology. In 1961 the Board of Regents moved the school to Marietta. It prospered in the new location and, following a nationwide trend, became a four-year school in 1970. Ten years later in 1980, it split away from Georgia Tech as a separate unit of the University System.

Meanwhile, local leaders took note that Cobb was the largest county in Georgia without a liberal arts college. Their lobbying efforts persuaded the Board of Regents in 1963 to charter Kennesaw Junior College. The first students enrolled in September 1966, but because the Kennesaw campus was not ready in time, the first quarter was held in several designated classrooms on the Southern Tech campus.

For several decades, the two schools followed parallel paths. Kennesaw gained four-year status in 1976. In 1984 the Board of Regents approved Kennesaw's first MBA and M.Ed. programs. The following year the board awarded Southern Tech its first master's degree in Technology Management. Both schools gained university status in 1996. However, Kennesaw's enrollment increasingly outstripped its Cobb County neighbor.   Due to dynamic growth in the Betty Siegel era, Kennesaw State by fall 1990 had 10,030 students, more than twice as large as Southern Tech's 4,018.

By fall 2013 Kennesaw was four times larger than Southern Polytechnic State University (24,629, compared to 6,549). In that year, in a cost-saving move during a national recession, the Board of Regents voted to merge the two schools under the name Kennesaw State University and under the direction of KSU President Dan Papp. The consolidation became official in January 2015. With 35,420 students in fall 2018 KSU was the 3rd largest university in Georgia and one of the 50 largest colleges and universities in the country. Kennesaw today offers more than 150 degree programs and has over 100,000 alumni.

The Kennesaw State University Archives was established in 2004 and is housed within the Department of Museums, Archives and Rare Books. Archivists use the collections of institutional records to connect and educate students about the value of primary sources and to serve as a hub for KSU's organizational and historical memory.

Note:
Academic tenure is an employment status at the University that assures a tenured faculty member of continuous appointment from contract year to contract year, except under conditions of dismissal for cause (see KSU Faculty Handbook Section 4.1.9), termination or layoff of tenured personnel due to program modification (see the Board of Regents (BOR) Policy Manual 8.3.7.10), or financial exigencies. The awarding of tenure is a highly important decision through which the University incurs a major commitment to the individual faculty member well into the future. Years of service or successful annual reviews alone are not sufficient to qualify for tenure. It should only be granted to those faculty members whose achievements demonstrate the quality and significance expected of their current rank and who demonstrate potential for long-term effectiveness at the University. All tenure track faculty are expected to produce scholarship in at least one performance area. This scholarship must be consistent with departmental, college, and university guidelines. Only under exceptional circumstances will a candidate be recommended for tenure without at least one form of scholarship as articulated in approved tenure and promotion guidelines. In awarding tenure, the University recognizes the long-range value of the faculty member to the institution and ensures them the academic freedom that is essential to an atmosphere conducive to the proper operation of the University.
